

LOCAL LAWS & POLICIES THAT PROMOTE ACCESS TO HEALTHY FOOD: A FOOD SYSTEM CROSSWALK

INTRODUCTION

The availability and accessibility of healthy food is largely determined by activities occurring across a community's food system. These activities are influenced and shaped in turn by local government laws and systems. The Healthy Food Policy Project¹ (the Project) seeks to elevate local laws that promote access to healthy food, and that also contribute to improved environmental conditions and/or foster strong local economies, with a particular focus on socially disadvantaged and marginalized groups.²

There are many legal policy options available to communities seeking to achieve these goals. To help local community leaders, advocates, researchers and others navigate through these alternatives, the Project has developed a crosswalk showing how food policy laws³ intersect with components of the food system. Because food system definitions can vary, the Project developed working definitions (set forth below). We use six food system components (grow; process; distribute; get; make; and surplus/waste management). We provide examples of specific types of laws and policies that fall into each of these food system components; many types fall within more than one.

We also categorized these laws and policies by type of legal strategy, using the following categories:

- Creates an educational/awareness campaign; provides information or teaches skills
- Creates a fund or allows a community to tap into an existing state or federal funding stream
- Requires something or sets a standard
- Prohibits or discourages something
- Creates an incentive for a change in practice or behavior—such as a tax break, or discount on a permit or licensing fee; provision of favorable marketing or other inducement
- Expressly allows something in a way that supports or promotes access to healthy food
- Creates an exemption or deregulates something or someone in a way that supports or promotes access to healthy food

For each type of law or policy identified, we include endnotes with links to real-world examples of that type of law.

Note about the examples in the endnotes: The endnotes provide a few examples of laws and do not include an exhaustive list of relevant laws. Many examples are repeated because they fall within more than one category. Also, a particular law may or may not be a good fit for other communities. To be most effective and minimize negative unintended consequences, laws and policies must be tailored to the community they are meant to serve.

Many of these example laws were found through the Growing Food Connections Local Government Policy Database (see <http://growingfoodconnections.org/>). We welcome suggestions for additional examples to include.

GROW

The process of growing and harvesting fruits, vegetables, and other forms of produce by use of soil, hydroponic/ aquaponics/aquaculture, or pasture mediums; and raising or keeping animals and insects for food production or pollination; whether for personal or commercial purposes in urban, suburban, or rural areas (e.g. backyard to large farms). Includes protecting and providing access to resources needed to carry out this process, such as access to land.

TYPE OF LEGAL STRATEGY	SPECIFIC TYPE OF LAW/POLICY
Creates an educational campaign; provides information or teaches skills	Comprehensive plans that include language about preserving agricultural lands⁴ and calling for various measures to support local food production and access to healthy food⁵ Agricultural erosion plans, sustainability plans,⁶ and other types of plans focused on protecting agricultural land, or supporting local food production⁷ Laws/resolutions that support educational campaigns and programs about local food sourcing, gardening, and related activities⁸ Laws that create programs to provide information about and/or resources to promote use of vacant land for community gardens, farms, or other productive uses⁹
Creates a fund or allows a community to tap into an existing state or federal funding stream	Provides financial support and other resources for community gardens or other forms of community-based, small scale agriculture¹⁰
Creates an incentive for a change in practice or behavior	Encourages procurement of local food¹¹ Creates a framework for purchase or transfer of development rights programs directed at agricultural lands¹² Provide tax credits, exemptions, or other benefits for agricultural producers, community garden organizers, etc.¹³
Requires something or sets a standard	Zoning or licensing laws that establish rules or standards that allow for various forms of small-scale, community based agriculture, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> · urban farms, community-supported agriculture, and gardens (backyard, community and market), including allowing accessory structures; composting; and related activities¹⁴ · laws that allow and establish rules for keeping of bees, chickens and other animals¹⁵ Allows and establishes rules for aquaculture¹⁶ Requires or encourages procurement of local food¹⁷ Zoning to preserve agricultural land¹⁸
Expressly allows something or creates an exemption	Make publically owned or managed lands available for gardens, farms or farmers' markets¹⁹ Allows or facilitates small-scale, community-based agriculture (such as community gardens, keeping of chickens and bees, etc.) in as many places as possible²⁰ Allows urban farms, community or market gardens within urban areas to engage in for-profit or commercial sales²¹ Creates city-operated farmers' markets²²
Prohibits or discourages something	Restricts use of neonicotinoids²³ Other types of pesticide use regulation²⁴

PROCESS

The function of turning fresh produce, honey, meat, fish, and other animal-related foods into forms ready for sale, including through restaurants (and other commercial settings), and including value-added processing that changes the physical form of the product (e.g., making berries into jam), and packaging.

TYPE OF LEGAL STRATEGY	SPECIFIC TYPE OF LAW/POLICY
Creates an educational campaign; provides information or teaches skills	Laws/resolutions that support educational campaigns and programs relating to small scale food production ²⁵
Creates an incentive for a change in practice or behavior	Requires disclosures of calorie content and/or other nutritional information on menus, menu boards, and vending machines ²⁶ Requires warnings to be placed on packages or advertisements or other places for sugary drinks or high sodium foods ²⁷
Requires something or sets a standard	Establishes licensed community kitchens for use by small/new businesses and other commercial entities ²⁸
Expressly allows something or creates an exemption	Reduces food safety rule barriers to using/sampling fresh produce, minimally processed foods at farmers markets and similar food outlets ²⁹ Promotes shared use of community kitchens (e.g., kitchens in schools and other community places) ³⁰

DISTRIBUTE

The process of transporting and delivering food to wholesale, retail, institutional, and other food access points (such as food shelves, food pantries or food banks). Includes the use of marketing strategies, such as labeling, pricing, placement, promotions, “sell-by” and similar dates, and other marketing techniques; and includes decisions about what types of food will be made available to the consumer, such as procurement decisions.

TYPE OF LEGAL STRATEGY	SPECIFIC TYPE OF LAW/POLICY
Creates an educational campaign; provides information or teaches skills	Requires or encourages access to free, safe drinking water ³¹ Repeal local laws that set expiration/sell by dates inconsistent with state laws ³²
Creates a fund or allows a community to tap into an existing state or federal funding stream	Provides additional reimbursements for school meals, Child and Adult Care Food Program snacks and meals, and similar nutrition programs ³³ Provides funding for healthy food financing initiatives ³⁴
Creates an incentive for a change in practice or behavior	Requires or encourages procurement of local food ³⁵ Provide tax credits, exemptions, or other benefits for organic food retailers ³⁶ Promotes participation in federal supplemental nutrition programs (e.g., SNAP or WIC) by food retailers ³⁷ Encourage stores to carry a minimum stock of fresh or minimally processed produce and other staple foods, or to carry “healthy foods” specifically ³⁸ Encourages application of nutrition standards to prepared foods sold by restaurants, mobile food vendors, and other retailers ³⁹

TYPE OF LEGAL STRATEGY	SPECIFIC TYPE OF LAW/POLICY
Requires something or sets a standard	Requires stores to carry a minimum stock of fresh or minimally processed produce and other staple foods, or to carry "healthy foods" specifically⁴⁰ Requires certain food retailers to accept federal supplemental nutrition program payments (e.g., SNAP or WIC)⁴¹ Requires inclusion of culturally relevant foods in institutional food service, stores, food shelves, or other food outlets in a community⁴² Establishes nutrition standards for food served/sold on government property or government-sponsored events, including vending machines⁴³ <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Including setting nutrition standards for food served to institutional populations (juvenile justice centers, corrections, mental health institutions, etc.) Requires healthy default options for beverages in restaurant kids' meals⁴⁵ Establishes nutrition standards for food served in child care, school (going beyond USDA regulations), or out-of-school-time settings⁴⁶ Requires access to free, safe drinking water⁴⁷
Expressly allows something or creates an exemption	Encourages establishment of farmers' markets/stands/carts⁴⁸ Creates city-operated farmers' markets⁴⁹ Facilitates establishment of mobile markets, mobile food shelves⁵⁰ Reduces food safety rule barriers to selling/sampling fresh produce, minimally processed foods⁵¹
Prohibits or discourages something	Increase taxes on foods of concern, such as sugar-sweetened beverage taxes⁵² Restricts container/portion size for foods of concern⁵³ Prohibit use of restrictive covenants to discourage grocery stores⁵⁴ Requires that only unsweetened water and milk may be included with restaurant children's meals⁵⁵

GET

Facilities, activities, practices, and systems that affect people's ability to obtain and consume healthy food including those that affect:

- The types of food access points available, including food stores of all varieties, restaurants, farmers' markets, feeding programs, food shelf/pantry or food bank locations. The accessibility of or to food access points, including density or number of outlets; accessibility by bicyclists and pedestrians; and proximity to transit routes and neighborhoods;
- What foods are available within access points, including standards or practices that impact the nutritional quality, cultural relevance, value, attractiveness, and other factors relating to appeal and health; and
- The affordability of food, including the application of federal nutrition programs such as SNAP and WIC.

TYPE OF LEGAL STRATEGY	SPECIFIC TYPE OF LAW/POLICY
Creates an educational campaign; provides information or teaches skills	Requires warnings to be placed on packages or advertisements or other places for sugary drinks or high sodium foods⁵⁶ Comprehensive plans, transportation plans, pedestrian master plans, food systems plans and other types of plans that address locations of healthy food outlets, and pedestrian/bicycle access to them⁵⁷ Repeal local laws that set expiration/sell by dates inconsistent with state laws⁵⁸

Requires something or sets a standard	Establishes standards for curbside pick-up of food waste ⁹⁶
Expressly allows something or creates an exemption	Allows gleaning ⁹⁷ or the creation of edible parks, forests or landscapes ⁹⁸ Establishes curbside pick-up service for food waste ⁹⁹
Prohibit/discourages something	Establishes a fee for waste collection and management ¹⁰⁰

ABOUT THE HEALTHY FOOD POLICY PROJECT (HFPP)

The HFPP identifies and elevates local laws that seek to promote access to healthy food, and also contribute to strong local economies, an improved environment, and health equity, with a focus on socially disadvantaged and marginalized groups. HFPP is a four-year collaboration of Vermont Law School's Center for Agriculture and Food Systems, the Public Health Law Center, and the Rudd Center for Food Policy and Obesity at the University of Connecticut. This project is funded by the National Agricultural Library, Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The HFPP thanks Marisa Jones with the Safe Routes to School National Partnership and our Advisory Committee for their review of an earlier draft of this document. The HFPP Advisory Committee members are: Emily Broad Leib with the Harvard Food Law and Policy Clinic; Pakou Hang with the Hmong American Farmers Association; Dr. David Procter with the Rural Grocery Initiative at Kansas State University; Dr. Samina Raja with Growing Food Connections at the University of Buffalo; and Kathryn Lynch Underwood with the Detroit Planning Commission. The HFPP also thanks student Law Clerks Darrell Hill and Arielle Sloan for their invaluable assistance in creating this resource.

¹The Healthy Food Policy Project (HFPP) is a two year project funded by the USDA National Agricultural Library, and led by Vermont Law School's Center for Agriculture and Food Systems in collaboration with the Public Health Law Center at Mitchell Hamline School of Law and the Rudd Center for Food Policy and Obesity at the University of Connecticut. The project's mission is to advance the field of knowledge about local laws and policies that improve access to healthy food and also promote health equity, support local economies, and/or foster improved environmental outcomes.

²For this Project, we defined "healthy food" as "food that is minimally processed; fresh, frozen, or canned produce that has little, if any, added sugar, salt, or fat; food that is culturally relevant; food that meets evidence-based nutrition standards; food that is both nutritious and safe to eat."

³The Healthy Food Policy Project focuses on written laws and governmental policies formally adopted or passed by a town, city, county or similar government entity. These include ordinances, resolutions, and codified laws, as well as formal planning documents such as comprehensive plans. The Project is not focusing on school district policies because much research about those types of policies is already available.
